Julia's Biography

Julia Corbin is a senior paralegal with nearly 20 years of experience supporting complex commercial litigation, criminal defense and investigations, and high-stakes trial matters. Over the years, she has prepared clients for and participated in more than 300 depositions, evidentiary hearings, and sentencing proceedings.

Drawing on extensive experience from both AmLaw-ranked and prominent litigation boutique firms, Julia supports Willenken's attorneys and clients across the firm's litigation and trial, intellectual property and trade secrets, and appellate practices. She works closely with attorneys throughout all phases of a matter, from pre-suit investigations and strategic case development through discovery, motion practice, trial, and appeal. Throughout her career, Julia has maintained an active pro bono practice, supporting immigration and asylum matters, among others.

Prior to joining Willenken, Julia was a paralegal at AmLaw 50 and 200 firms, as well as other prominent Los Angeles-based litigation boutiques, where she gained extensive experience in white collar defense, SEC enforcement proceedings, securities litigation, internal investigations, regulatory disputes, and complex civil litigation. She began her career at one of Los Angeles' first white collar criminal defense firms.

Julia earned her paralegal certificate, with distinction, from the University of California, Los Angeles and holds advanced certifications in trial practice and e-discovery from NALA, the Paralegal Association.
